Hi Liam,

Hope you're doing well and that the work on the new $3M Brain Health Foundation grant is progressing smoothly!

I just received an unexpected query regarding our 'Global Health Equity: A Novel Approach' paper from the World Water Congress Proceedings. It seems they've flagged a few minor points for urgent clarification before final publication record updates, and they've given us a very tight window to respond.

I've compiled their specific comments and my initial proposed responses/minor edits in the attached document, "manuscript_updates.docx". Could you please take a look as soon as possible? Your expert eye, particularly on the implications for future research directions (especially in light of your new grant work), would be incredibly valuable to ensure we address everything comprehensively. I really need to send this back by end of day tomorrow at the latest.

Let me know if you can review it quickly.

Best,

Maria
