Hi Patel,

Hope you're well.

I just received some urgent feedback from the *Journal of Marine Ecosystems* regarding our 'Marine Ecosystem Dynamics: A Novel Approach' paper. It seems they've sent back a few specific points that need immediate attention before final publication, some of which touch on the methodological approaches we discussed.

Given your upcoming presentation at Advanced Materials Letters this fall, and especially with the recent $1M NIH grant focusing on marine ecosystem dynamics, I want to make sure we address these perfectly and without delay. They've indicated a very tight turnaround for our response.

I've compiled all their comments along with my initial thoughts and proposed edits in the attached file: 'manuscript_updates.docx'.

Could you please review it as a matter of urgency and provide your input? We need to get this finalized quickly. Let me know your availability to discuss by phone if needed, but please look at the document first.

Thanks so much, and speak soon.

Best,

Liam
