Hi Yara,

Hope your work on the new NSF ocean acidification grant is progressing well.

I'm writing regarding our "Coral Reef Restoration: A Novel Approach" manuscript. Following some recent discussions and unexpected feedback (even from some of the unconventional circles our paper reached after the Cyber Defense Conference Proceedings publication), I've made some critical revisions that we absolutely need to incorporate for a new submission.

I know you're incredibly busy with your upcoming presentation for the Astrophysical Journal, but this can't wait. The updated version, with my proposed changes and comments, is attached as "manuscript_updates.docx".

Please review it *immediately* and let me know your thoughts by **end of day tomorrow**. We need to get this re-submitted to a more appropriate journal as soon as possible, and your input on these sections is crucial.

Thanks for your prompt attention to this.

Best,

Sam Chen (Dr. Samuel Chen)
