Hi Maya,

I hope this email finds you well.

I'm writing to you with some urgent updates regarding our 'Neurodegeneration: A Novel Approach' manuscript for the Journal of Marine Ecosystems. We've just received a rather unexpected, time-sensitive request from the editorial team for some critical last-minute revisions and data clarifications. They've emphasized the importance of these changes given the anticipated spotlight on our work, especially with the buzz around the EU Horizon grant focusing on neurodegeneration.

These adjustments are crucial, not only for the final publication but also to ensure everything is perfectly aligned for your upcoming presentation in the fall. I've compiled all the essential points and my proposed changes in the attached document: "manuscript_updates.docx".

Could you please review these updates as soon as possible? We really need to get these back to the journal within the next few hours. Liam is also looking over his sections.

Let me know your thoughts once you've had a chance to go through it.

Best regards,

Kenji
