Hi Zoe,

Hope you're doing well.

I'm writing regarding our 'Secure Data Exchange Protocols' paper for the Journal of Financial Innovation. We've received some last-minute, critical feedback from the editorial team that requires immediate attention and a quick turnaround. They've highlighted a few areas for clarification that need to be addressed before final publication.

I've incorporated these changes into the attached document, "manuscript_updates.docx". Please review it as soon as you possibly can. We have a very tight deadline – they are pushing for final approval by end of day tomorrow to keep us on schedule for the next issue. Your prompt review and confirmation are essential.

Also, just wanted to say congratulations again on securing that $4M Space Exploration Grant. That's fantastic news and well-deserved!

Let me know your thoughts on the attached.

Best,

Patel
