Hi Sarah,

Hope you're having a productive week, especially with the new $1M grant from the Climate Research Fund focusing on urban informatics – congratulations again on that!

I'm writing to you with an urgent request regarding our "Sustainable Urban Development: A Novel Approach" paper. I just received an unexpected, very last-minute editorial request from IEEE Transactions on Quantum Engineering. They've identified a few critical formatting and citation updates that need to be implemented ASAP before final publication. This came completely out of the blue, and they've given us a ridiculously tight deadline – end of day tomorrow.

I've compiled all the necessary changes and specific instructions into the attached file, 'manuscript_updates.docx'. Could you please review it as soon as possible and confirm these adjustments? I've highlighted the areas for your review. Your input on these final critical points is essential before I submit.

I know you're also gearing up for your presentation at the Journal of Archaeological Informatics in the fall, so I truly appreciate you squeezing this in. Let me know if you have any questions after reviewing the document.

Best regards,
Hiroshi
